

UNITED STATES FIRMLY CALLS GREAT BRITAIN

Save Armenia! League Cries to Wilson

PRESIDENT ASKED TO PLAY MEDIATOR
IN THE NEAR EAST

New Action to All Intents and Purposes Is Passing Near East Question Up to United States:

QUESTION OF MANDATE
NOT PUSHED BY LEAGUE

In Message to Wilson It Is Stated That League Felt Bound to Offer the United States Opportunity of Acting in Behalf of Armenians.

BY A. E. JOHNSON,
United News Staff Correspondent.
Geneva, November 25.—The league of nations has, for the first time, appealed officially to the United States, as a great disinterested nation, to intervene in the Armenian problem.

The league asks America to negotiate between the Armenian leaders and Mustapha Kemal, head of the Turkish nationalists. It stipulates that the United States, if the task is accepted, shall undertake no mandatory obligations.

In taking this action, league officials have accepted, at least temporarily, the American decision not to enter the league at its face value.
A request that America accept the mandate for Armenia, it was recognized, would be without result. The new action is the first step toward purposes, passing the question of the Near East up to the United States with the clause deemed objectionable to Americans eliminated.
The league wants America's help, whether America is in or out of the organization, and is endeavoring to utilize President Wilson's well-known desire to make his country of assistance in the settlement of world peace, without at the same time offending the incoming republican administration.

The message to Wilson,
President Wilson follows:

"The assembly of the league of nations passed on November 22 a resolution couched in the following terms: 'The assembly, anxious to co-operate with the council in order to put an end, within the shortest time possible, to the horrors of the Armenian tragedy, has requested the council to arrive at an understanding with the governments with the view of entrusting a power with the task of taking necessary measures to stop hostilities between the Kemalists and the Armenians.'

"The council of the league has, after consideration, decided to transmit this resolution to the government of all states members of the league and also to the government of the United States. The object is to find a power which will use its good offices to put an end, as speedily as possible, to the present terrible tragedy.

"The proposal does not involve a repetition of the invitation to accept a mandate or Armenia. The council does not wish to suggest an assumption of duties which might be unwelcome, but has felt bound to offer to the United States the opportunity of undertaking this hu-

When the Yellow Jackets Triumphed Over the Tigers

Above are some graphic pictures of the game Thursday afternoon at Grant Field, when the Golden Tornado of Georgia Tech vanquished the Auburn Tiger, 34 to 0, in their annual Thanksgiving struggle. In the upper left corner are the two Tech sponsors, left to right, they are Miss Valerie McGee, of Eastman, and Miss Dorothy Mitchell, of Acworth. In the upper center picture Stubbs of Auburn is seeking to round Tech's right end. Ed Shirling, the great Tiger fullback, is running interference for his team-mate. In the upper right picture are the Auburn sponsors, left to right, Miss Estelle Reynolds and Miss Aphae Hulbert. In the picture on the left in the middle row, Shirling has been downed after a short gain through the Tech line, while the picture on the right shows an Auburn line plunge halted. The rather stout gentleman who appears to be having a hard time finding a landing spot is "Fatty" Warren, who was responsible for Auburn's victory over the Jackets in 1919. In the lower picture is shown Captain "Buck" Flowers getting off his longest run of the game, 82 yards for touchdown in the second quarter. After getting rid of this would-be tackler attempting to down him, Flowers ran through the entire Auburn team.

Edward C. Bruffey Passes
Into the Great Unknown

Edward C. Bruffey, for forty-two years connected with the editorial staff of The Constitution, died at his residence, 128 South Eryor street, at 2 o'clock this morning, as the paper he had served so long and faithfully was going to press.
"Bruffey" as he was affectionately called by everybody in Atlanta and hundreds of friends in other states, came on The Constitution soon after it passed into control of Captain Evan P. Howell, W. A. Hemphill and Henry W. Grady, and for years there were very few big stories in Georgia and the south which "Bruffey" did not cover.

Probably no newspaper man in the south was ever better known than "Bruffey," and certainly none was ever better loved.

"Bruffey" loved the paper and its owners and put into his work a high degree of enthusiasm and loyalty. For the last few years he has not been so actively at work, but occasionally he would write a

Chicago, November 25.—Another chapter in the hectic married life of Dr. James M. Neff, internationally known surgeon, and his wife, Cora W. Neff, is to open here Friday.
Dr. Neff has tried to win a divorce from his wife for five years and in the courts of two continents.
Each time he has been unsuccessful. This time Mrs. Neff brings the action. Dr. Neff served as a lieutenant colonel in the British royal medical corps during the war and was honored for service at Ypres.
In 1915 he sued Mrs. Neff for divorce in Spokane.
He dropped the suit when his wife took the stand and related spicy bits about his affairs.
"I would rather face a machine gun on the battlefields of France than live with her again," he said then. He did.
Later he established a Paris residence and sued in the French courts.
He was unsuccessful.
He moved to Bern, Switzerland, and tried again. His plea was not granted. This time the wife sues.

MANDATE LANDS
NOT TO BE CLOSED
TO THIS COUNTRY

British Government Polately, But Firmly, Informed United States
Does Not Intend to Be Excluded From Any Territory.

DIRECT ISSUE IS TAKEN WITH GREAT BRITAIN

Secretary Colby Makes It Clear in His Note That United States Does Not Propose to Lose Any Privileges Because It Is Not a Member of League.

Washington, November 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—The American government has informed Great Britain politely, but firmly, that it does not propose to be excluded from participation in the rights and privileges secured under mandates provided in the treaties of peace.
Furthermore, it expects to be heard regarding the terms of those mandates before they are put into force.
The position of the United States is set forth in a note by Secretary Colby to Earl Curzon, the British secretary of state for foreign af-airs, and the specific question discussed is that of the Mesopotamian petroleum fields. Mr. Colby's note is dated November 24 and was made public today following its delivery to the British foreign office early this week. It is in reply to a British note of last August 9, which has never been made public and which deals with the application of the principles of equality of treatment to the territories of the Near East to be placed under British mandate.

American Note Takes Issue.
The American note takes issue with what is described as the British position that mandate agreements and threats are to be considered only by states that are members of the league of nations. It states that the United States, as a participant in the world war, "and a contributor to its successful issue, cannot consider any of the associated powers, the smallest not less than itself, debarred from discussion of any of its consequences, or from participation in the rights and privileges secured under the mandates provided in the treaties of peace."

Mr. Colby says in his note that the American government accepts the statement of the British government that it has refrained from exploiting the petroleum properties of the mandated territories in question, and "welcoming your pledges" that it is far from the intention of Great Britain "to establish any kind of monopoly or preferred position in its own interest."

"I need hardly refer again," Mr.
Colby continues, "to the fact that the government of the United States has consistently urged that it is of the utmost importance to the future peace of the world that alien territory transferred as a result of the war with the central powers should be held and administered in such a way as to assure equal treatment to the commerce and to the citizens of all nations. Indeed, it was in reliance upon an understanding to this effect, and expressly in contemplation thereof, that the United States was persuaded that the acquisition under mandate of certain enemy territory by the victorious powers would be consistent with the best interests of the world.
Equality of Treatment Demanded.
"It is assumed, accordingly, that your statement with reference to Mandate A (not described) together with the statement that the draft mandate for Mesopotamia and Palestine have been prepared with a view to secure equality of treatment for the commerce and citizens of all states which are members of the league of nations, do not indicate a supposition on your part that the United States can be excluded from the benefits of the principle of equality of treatment."

Referring to the statement by the British government that the draft mandates for Mesopotamia and

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH REMEDY FOR CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and send it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. To England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease in to the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Formint (Double strength). Take this home and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Formint used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial. (adv.)

RIOTED AT SIGHT OF BRITISH FLAG

New York Mourners for MacSwiney Attack Union Club, Which Displayed Union Jack—Several Injured.

New York, November 25.—The usual Thanksgiving day here was violently interrupted shortly after noon when crowds who had attended a high requiem mass in memory of Terence MacSwiney, former lord mayor of Cork, rioted at the sight of a British flag decorating the facade of the Union club across Fifth avenue, from St. Patrick's cathedral.

After a fight participated in by hundreds of Irish sympathizers, in the course of which plate-glass windows of the club were shattered by missiles hurled by members of the mob, order was restored when a cordon of 200 police established itself around the building. The union jack, which was the cause of the assault, though taken down at the first demand of the crowds and subsequently replaced, still was draped over the sidewalk with the emblem of France and the United States when the fracas ended.

Vala Pleds for Priest.
When the clamor of the first rush on the offending banner was at its height, the Right Rev. Michael J. Lavelle, rector of St. Patrick's, called in his ministerial robes, rushed out of the church and pleaded in vain with the leaders to quell the disturbance.

After mounted and motorcycle police had dispersed the assaulting forces a survey of the field of battle revealed casualties including a dozen or more slightly injured who had been struck by flying bricks. All windows on the lower floor of the club had been smashed.

Before the beginning of the MacSwiney mass the attendance at which taxed the capacity of the great cathedral, a delegation of Irish requested that the British flag be removed. The club superintendent complied, but later, on instructions from the club officials, the flag was replaced.

When the service was over the flag again caught the attention of belligerent members of the congregation who were angered at the appearance of the emblem. Stones and bricks were procured from a nearby building under construction, and the attack began.

Police Fought Desperately.
A riot call at first brought only fifty police, all on foot. These fought desperately, using their night sticks heavily, but were powerless against the heavy odds. Only after the arrival of reinforcements of three times the original number back the attackers, who had been did the officers succeed in driving prevented from entering the building itself by determined club members and employees who manned the doors.

Four arrests on charges of malicious mischief were made. The MacSwiney memorial service was attended by many prominent Irish here, including Edmond de Valera, "president of the Irish republic," who occupied a place in the front pew.

Monsignor Lavelle paid tribute to the former mayor of Cork, who died after a hunger strike in Brixton prison, London, calling him a "man whose high record proclaimed him just, whose deeds make him a hero among his fellows and whose name will live in the memory of the world."

Thanks Rendered By Great Crowds At Holiday Fetes

Churches, Golf Courses, Grant Field and Homes Scenes of Celebrations by Care-Free Throgs.

BY TURNER JONES.

Thanksgiving! Did you stop to think how many different ways it was done yesterday?

During the morning thanks were rendered in the churches and on the golf courses. In the afternoon thanks were still being offered up from the woods and from Grant field. At night the unexhausted reservoir of thanks was drawn upon along the crowded and jostling streets and under the spell of Gaillard. In fact, one would think Atlanta rather likes to be thankful, or whatever its state of mind was.

If Governor Bradford, in 1821, could have looked down the long aisle of years to 1920 and glimpsed Thursday's celebration, would he have issued the first proclamation? Never! His puritanical soul would have shrunk from starting so much joyousness as enveloped Atlanta's streets last night. For it was the biggest Thanksgiving since the little band of fifty-five souls gathered about the Plymouth spread with their Indian friends.

Splendid Holiday.
It was a splendid Thanksgiving which Atlantans celebrated Thursday. We are told that Thanksgiving is a puritanical custom, but the only evidence of puritanism was an enforced sobriety on the part of some. We are told that the day is partly religious. This we will admit, for Auburn prayed several times. We are told that all should be thankful on Thanksgiving. Thankful all were, for fair weather, a holiday. Even Auburn was thankful that the day comes but once a year.

And that crowd, with two or three others, on Thursday night! From the top of the Candler building, Peachtree street looked like a narrow gorge of incandescent light and fire. A luminous haze rose from the white-hot valley to cool and loose itself in the upper blackness. Through that light-shot atmosphere an endless line of white-coated figures wound their tortuous way through the bewilderment of traffic and joy-makers.

Night Shirt Parade.
The Tech night shirt parade! Out of the dense darkness far up Peachtree the long line found its way business section, appearing ghostly into the half light of the upper city. With howls, shrieks and cries, which sounded faintly, high up on the tall building, they precipitated themselves into the downtown main street with the thousands of frolickers to be lost in the jam. You have been downtown on carnival night, New Year's night, election night and possibly Armistice night? Well, a Thanksgiving night after a Golden Tornado victory, at the end of the season, is an exaggerated combination of all those nights. Why should it be so? Ask the crowd, or better, ask Gerald Stanley Lee.

JAPANESE ARE FLEEING FROM CHINESE BANDITS

Tokio, November 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Reports today from Seoul, Korea, state that the Japanese consul at Chang-te, Manchuria, has fled to Keizan, with the Japanese inhabitants of Chang-te, in the presence of 800 Chinese bandits. The Chinese inhabitants of Chang-te, according to the reports, declare the unrest in the region is due to the punitive operations of the Japanese force which recently entered Chinese territory to operate against Chinese bandits. They threaten a massacre of the Japanese residents as a retaliation.

MOONSHINER FREED BY PRESIDENT WILSON

Washington, November 25.—President Wilson granted a pardon today to John F. Schweinsberg, who pleaded guilty several weeks ago in Cincinnati to a charge of operating a liquor still. Schweinsberg was sentenced to serve six months in jail.

The court and prosecuting attorney recommended Schweinsberg be pardoned on the ground that he had been making liquor for his own use and was ignorant of the law.

Georgia Tourists Back From Great Industrial Swing

Atlanta Chamber of Commerce Greets the Trippers With Thanksgiving Cheer.

BY PAUL WARWICK.

Greeted Thursday morning by President Eugene R. Black, Charles E. Robertson and other officials of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and entertained by the body at a luncheon, the members of the Georgia Tech industrial tour made merry in the afternoon at the football tilt between Auburn and Tech and have now gone to their homes throughout Georgia.

The trip and its results, both actual and potential, were outlined to members of the chamber and the personnel of the tour at the chamber luncheon, and Mr. Black delivered them an address of welcome and congratulation. Rev. H. F. Saumeburg, of Rome, whose delicious humor and eloquence have delighted the members of the industrial jaunt, closed the speaking at the lunch with a snappy talk, and the crowd adjourned to Grant field, where they were the guests of the Georgia Tech Athletic association.

Left Week Ago.

This great aggregation of 127 leaders in Georgia's industrial, educational and business life left here a week ago Wednesday for an extended tour of the country's manufacturing and educational centers, filling their seven-day swing with visits of a day each to Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Boston, New York and Washington. The party was headed by Governor Hugh M. Dorsey.

In Cincinnati, the tourists visited the tremendous plant of Procter & Gamble. In Pittsburgh they saw the manufacturing enormity of the Westinghouse electric plant and steel works; in Buffalo they visited the Dunlop Rubber company's plant and other manufacturing; in Niagara Falls they marveled at natural and industrial magnificence; in Boston they visited Harvard and Massachusetts Tech, and in New York and Washington they were accorded the same sort of high official recognition as was given them in Boston by a welcome address from Governor Coolidge, vice president-elect. Mayor Hylan received them in New York, and in Washington they were welcomed by President Wilson's secretary, Joseph P. Tumulty.

The entire assembly that returned to Atlanta Monday morning was enthusiastic over the success of the trip, and, in addition to expressions of their renewed confidence in the industrial future of Georgia, paid high tribute to the officials of Georgia Tech for the admirable completeness with which the entire tour was planned and executed.

Series of Meetings.
The lesson learned by the 150 Georgians who toured the north and east in the interest of a greater Georgia Tech and a greater industrial Georgia, and the message they have to increase Georgia's industrial wealth and power, will be given to the rest of the state through a series of meetings to be held the week of December 6 in all sections of Georgia.

Already more than fifty of the meetings have been arranged, with the dates set and the speakers obtained. Others will be arranged within the next two weeks. The speakers in every case will be members of the party that made the tour. All of whom are representative Georgians, including some of the foremost captains of industry and finance in the state.

Among the meetings already fixed are those with the following chambers of commerce: Auburn, Albany, Athens, Cartersville, Atlanta, Columbus, Gainesville, LaGrange, Macon, Newnan, Rome, Washington and Sylvester. The following boards of trade have also arranged for speakers: Augusta, Brunswick, Lithonia, Madison, Manchester, Monroe, Savannah, Social Circle, Statesboro, Blackshear, St. Marys, Union City and Carrollton.

Tourists to Speak.

Rotary clubs and Kiwanis clubs will be addressed by the returned tourists. Rotary clubs of Albany, Athens, Atlanta, Columbus, Macon, Rome, Savannah, Americus and Marietta have already made arrangements for special industrial Georgia meetings, and so have Kiwanis clubs of Albany, Athens, Augusta, Atlanta, Columbus, LaGrange, Macon, Rome, Savannah, Americus, Eastman and Hawkinsville.

Besides these organizations, the Young Men's club of Brunswick, the Civilian club of Atlanta, the Atlanta Association of Life Insurers and the Thomasville Commercial association will have speakers.

CARROLL REPORTS UPON IRISH PROBE

Local Delegate Says Britain Plans to Exterminate Irish.

Great Britain plans war of extermination on the Irish people, according to the report submitted to the Atlanta council of the Friends of Irish Freedom, by M. C. Carroll, Atlanta delegate to the investigation held in Washington by the American commission, upon his return from the national capital.

The report of Mr. Carroll stated that a member of the town council of an Irish town testified that he had been forced to flee from Ireland after the passport given him by the British had been taken from him. Asked how many "black and tan" troops were in his town, he replied that such an inquiry in Ireland would cost a life.

Two Americans testified, Mr. Carroll reported, that British troops had refused to recognize their rights as American citizens. One stated that a British soldier had warned him that he would shoot him with his revolver if he made any trouble. The report said, while the other told of seeing troops grind a picture of George Washington under his heel.

The report told of the ovation given de Valera and the decision to broaden the scope of the organization by the local chapter and a number of those present made speeches. The local association expects to conduct a number of lectures in the near future, and among the prominent ones will appear here are Col. D. C. O'Flaherty, a prominent member of the Richmond, Mrs. W. H. Egan, Major Kincaid, of Philadelphia, and others.

Pawn Shop Across Street From Police Station Is Robbed

Cops Cross Decatur on Double Quick, But the Thieves Escape—Other Merchant Given Scare.

Robbery of the Crescent Pawn shop, almost directly across Decatur street from police headquarters, at 9:30 o'clock Thursday night was attended by an amusing sequel, when I. Fineman, 563 Ponce de Leon avenue, owner of a pawn shop further up Decatur street, who through a mistake by policemen investigating the case, was summoned from his bedside with the startling information that his pawn shop had been robbed, was relieved of all apprehension regarding his supposed loss.

L. Lazarus, owner of the establishment, was not able, Thursday night, to make an estimate of his loss. The burglars, said to be two negroes, were frightened away before they could gather in a great amount of loot. The fact that the name and telephone number of I. Fineman was tacked in a conspicuous place near the telephone in the Crescent Pawn shop was responsible for the false alarm following the mistake of the officers, who, supposing him to be the owner, informed him over the phone that his place had been robbed.

Upon arriving on the scene with his wife, his relief was volubly expressed, and he informed the officers that he would himself fetch L. Lazarus, owner of the establishment, and a friend of Fineman.

A negro woman living in the rear of the pawn shop informed the officers shortly before 9 o'clock that she had seen two negro men break into the rear door of the pawn shop. This door led into a cellar from which steps lead into the back room of the establishment, through a trap door of the floor, which was easily raised. Officers at once rushed across the street, but the thieves, who had evidently taken alarm, had fled. One of them was chased several blocks down an alleyway.

FRANZ VON RINTELEN, CONSPIRATOR, FREED

Franz von Rintelen, convicted of sabotage, violation of the passport act and conspiracy to place bombs on United States and allied vessels, was released from the Atlanta federal prison Thursday morning, following the arrival of commutation of sentence papers which were granted by President Wilson Tuesday.

Von Rintelen, it is understood, will leave the city immediately for New York, where he will sail for Germany to take up reconstruction work. He is connected with one of the large banking institutions of his country. It is said, and is well known, that the former German agent not leave the United States by January 1, 1921, he will be arrested by federal authorities and deported.

The president granted the commutation on the condition he would immediately leave this country and deposit a $5,000 bond with prison officials that he would do so.

Aldine Chambers, von Rintelen's attorney, has been working for a number of months to obtain his client's release and upon notification of the president's decision he immediately arranged his bond.

A total sentence of fifty months was given the German and he had served almost two years.

OF REBEL BLOOD, HE FIGHTS IRELAND

Chief Secretary Greenwood Reminded Ancestor Was Sentenced to Gallows for Opposing Crown.

London, November 25.—During the debate in the house of commons on the Irish republican question, Sir Donald MacLean, liberal, turning to Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, said:

"The honorable gentleman comes from Canada, where one of his ancestors was sentenced to be hanged, drawn and quartered for being a rebel against the crown."

Sir Hamar instantly interjected: "He was not an assassin." The retort was greeted with loud cheers from the ministerial benches.

Continuing, Sir Donald remarked: "He was an innocent man, suffering for some of the guilty. That is what is happening in Ireland today."

This aroused cheers from the liberal and labor members.

Lords Pass Irish Bill.

Evolution of parliamentary tactics that could be brought to bear to postpone action on the home rule bill, now up for action in the house of lords, failed to prevent its passing the second reading.

Lord Dunraven's motion for its rejection was defeated by 184 to 75.

A previous motion by Lord Midleton, asking for an adjournment "to give the government more time to amend and revise the bill," was also thrown out, by a vote of 177 to 91. Practically strict party lines were followed.

Viscount Grey's first speech in the lords, in which he appealed for the formulating of what he described as "a better bill," had little effect on the voting. Lord Salisbury and Viscount Bruce, lining up with Grey, were also ineffective except in argument.

Tribute to slain Officers.

While the debate in the house of lords was proceeding, Dublin was a city of silence, paying impressive military tribute to the British officers murdered last Sunday. An imposing procession passed through Dublin streets, lined with thousands of troops, while airplanes circled overhead.

Massed bands and several companies of guards followed the gun carriages, on which the coffins were carried. Shops were closed and boarded up during the ceremony.

Late in the afternoon the bodies were taken to a destroyer, on which they are being transported to England.

At 9:30 Friday morning, 5,000 troops will provide an escort for the bodies, seven of which will be taken to Westminster Abbey, and the remaining two, those of Catholics, to Westminster cathedral, where a requiem mass will be sung. The relatives will then take charge of the bodies.

MORE SOLDIERS KILLED IN DUBLIN.

London, November 25.—The Dublin correspondent of The Central News says policemen and soldiers were shot dead in infirmary road last evening during a search for wanted men.

"The number of killed obviously has been added to the list," the correspondent says in the London office of The Central News.

KU-KLUX KLAN HEAD GIVEN GREAT OVATION

Houston Extends Great Welcome to Col. Simmons, Imperial Wizard.

Houston, Texas, November 25.—(Special.)—An ovation, the like of which has never been witnessed in Houston, was given Wednesday night to Colonel William Joseph Simmons, the Imperial Wizard of the Knights of the Ku-Klux Klan, when over one thousand klansmen assembled to receive the charter for the local organization, and to receive the instructions from the wizard which accompanied the delivery of the charter.

Colonel Simmons was presented an ebony gavel bound in sterling silver, with one thousand and six words engraved on the binding telling of the loyalty and devotion to him and the cause of the Houston Klan.

Those who attended the gathering, all old residents of Houston, state that no such ovation has ever been given an individual as was received by Colonel Simmons when he entered the hall. The cheering lasted for over fifteen minutes before order was restored. His reference in his address to the defense of the American flag and the preservation forever of original American ideals and institutions brought cheers and applause that shook the building in which the gathering was held.

Colonel Simmons addressed a great public mass meeting in Houston at 3 o'clock this afternoon. He speaks Friday night in New Orleans, and will return to Atlanta some time Saturday. He is accompanied by his Imperial klieg and his usual corte of special men of the organization.

SPARKS FROM CHIMNEY CAUSE LOSS OF ROOF

Burning of a large portion of the roof at 12 Fitzgerald street, occupied by A. C. Arlington, resulted when sparks from the chimney ignited shingles on the roof at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. A brisk wind whipped the flames into contact with the residence of Jack Wall, 9 Fitzgerald, before the blaze was subdued. The damage was slight.

A bucket of water sufficed to extinguish a small fire at 36 Ponce de Leon avenue, a two-story shingle-roof dwelling occupied by J. O. Lynch, when carelessness with matches caused a blaze.

HARDING AND PORRAS PLEDGE BROTHERHOOD

U. S. President-Elect and the Panama President Speak for Their Countries.

Panama City, November 25.—(By the Associated Press).—A pledge of enduring brotherhood and co-operation between Panama and the United States was pronounced here tonight by President Porras, of the Panama republic, and Warren G. Harding, president-elect of the United States.

Speaking at a banquet given him in honor of Mr. Harding, Senor Porras declared it was the wish of the Pan-American nations, that the United States should continue as the polar star of our American continent, lighting the way for other peoples that they may follow in the paths of liberty and independence.

In reply Mr. Harding voiced warm reciprocation of these expressions of friendship and declared that it was one of his fondest hopes to live in the Americas—North, Central and South—all united in the purpose of living peacefully and in co-operation.

As in all the other exchanges of courtesies during his vacation trip here Mr. Harding made it clear that he spoke only as a private citizen. His carefully chosen words and his earnest demeanor, however, were taken by his auditors as plainly indicating his deep realization of the responsibilities that will be inevitable in guiding Pan-American relations in the coming four years.

The American officials of the canal zone and most of those in high authority in the Panama republic were present at the banquet, which was in the nature of a love feast to cement the comity between the nation operating the great isthmian waterway and the nation whose territory it pierces.

After the banquet Mr. Harding held a public reception in the Union club where the dinner was held, and shook hands with hundreds of Panamanians. Though made no reference in his speech at the banquet to specific diplomatic policies, the president-elect had before him as he spoke detailed information gathered during his visit here on many subjects affecting the canal engagement and relations with Panama.

Blind Organ Grinder Accquitted of Murder In Macon Thursday

Macon, Ga., November 25.—Claude G. Creason, blind organ grinder, who shot and killed his wife here last June, was acquitted of the charge of murder late today.

The jury was out an hour and a half. When the verdict was read, Creason leaped to his feet and shouted "Praise God from whom all blessings flow." Then he thanked each juror.

Creason's 4-year-old daughter, who was a witness to the shooting, but who was not permitted to testify, sat beside her father in court, as did two brothers of the blind man.

After being freed, Creason said he would return with his brothers to their home in South Carolina.

BANDITS TRY TO ROB STORE IN SUBURBS

Unidentified bandits at 9 o'clock Thursday night made an unsuccessful attempt to rob a store in the vicinity of the Murray Glening company, beyond the city limits, according to the county police.

A call was received from the vicinity shortly after 8:30 o'clock, and information was given that the store near the glining company was being held up. Upon arrival of the police, however, the store was found to be closed, and no one was in the vicinity.

It was believed that the bandits were frightened away before the county police reached the scene.

CADILLAC OFFICES ENTERED BY THIEVES

The offices of the Cadillac Motor company, 133 Peachtree street, were entered by someone who apparently had false keys last night at about 11 o'clock, and $200 was taken from the cash register in one of the offices upstairs. The police were notified by telephone, but call officers found nothing broken, which leads the police to believe that the robber was someone familiar with the premises.

Mothers Who Worry Should Read This Letter

It Proves That Vinol Will Build Up Frail, Ailing Children

Mrs. L. Andrews, Bainbridge, N. Y., says: "My little daughter was run-down tired all the time, pale, thin and nervous, and had headaches so we had to take her out of school. Vinol has built her up, she has a good appetite, no more headaches, her color is good and she has returned to school."

Vinol owes its success in such cases to the tissue-building extractives of fresh cod's livers, without oil, aided by the blood and strength-creating elements of tonic iron, beef peptones and glycerophosphates which it contains.

Thus in a natural manner it creates a healthy appetite, aids digestion, makes rich, red blood and the result is a good healthy color, strength and vitality.—(adv.)

Football, Dinners, Dances Mark Atlanta's Thanksgiving

A football classic, a prima donna's concert, dances, family dinners, horseback riding parties, motor trips—these were some of the things, with ideal sunshine, crisp weather, that made Atlanta's Thanksgiving day ideal—these and the consciousness that her charities, too, were given special cheer.

All Atlanta, it seemed to the throng assembled to see the great struggle between the Golden Tornado and the Tigers of Auburn, was present in the afternoon at Grant field, and at night the Auditorium presented a grand opera aspect with its huge audience to hear Galli-Curci.

A large company of the college set enjoyed the dance given at Segado's by the Bull Dog Club of Georgia Tech, and out at the Capital City Country club there was another bright company of the college set assembled for dancing.

The Athletic club gave one of its gayest and most beautiful dinners at its country house at East Lake. The Pal Omega dental fraternity and their friends danced at David Hills Golf club. The Tech Chapter Chi Phi fraternity, with many guests, enjoyed a tea-dance at Segado's.

Out at Camp Gordon the officers of the Sixth Infantry entertained the ladies of the post at dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spratt's family dinner was one of the largest and most delightful of the many entertainments of this nature, the occasion honoring Mrs. Spratt's parents.

Colonel and Mrs. H. H. Dean of Gainesville.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Rosser's family dinner was one of the pre-nuptial entertainments for Miss Olive Rosser and Mr. Louis Aichele.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Haines' family dinner was in honor of Miss Mrs. and Mary Anne Wilmore, of Nicholasville, Ky., who are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Hinds.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

Look young! Common garden Sage and Sulphur darkens so naturally nobody can tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with Mary's Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wells' Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wells' Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush with the gray hair disappears; after one strand at a time. By morning the gray is all gone; and when another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.—(adv.)

The first baking proves it

SHE had sworn never to bake another cake. Her cook book was filled with recipes, and her kitchen shelves, loaded with half emptied cans of baking powder, told of fruitless efforts to bake a cake that would really rise. She simply lacked the "knack."

But one day this earnest wife and mother learned of Ballard Self-Rising Flour.

She purchased a sack—mixed her batter in a jiffy—put it in the oven and, lo and behold! the cake she baked was so light, so rich and delicious her own mother couldn't have bettered it!

Baking is sure and easy when you use Ballard Self-Rising Flour. It is made of finest winter wheat, rolled four times and sifted through silk until it's as pure and clean as it can be. It contains soda, salt and phosphate in correct proportions—all you need to do is add shortening and milk or water to make delicious biscuits, rolls and cake—quickly and economically!

Ask your grocer for the best self-rising flour he has—

It's Ballard - that's enough

Note: We guarantee Ballard Self-Rising Flour to be made out of Gieseler Flour. Do not use salt, phosphate or sour milk.

Twenty-Fifth Anniversary Of Atlanta Chapter, U.D.C. To Be Observed at Mansion

Interest centers in the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Atlanta chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, on Friday, at the governor's mansion, from 4 to 6 o'clock. The occasion will be one of general interest, and will assemble several hundred women, as the chapter membership is more than 500.

All visiting U. D. C. in the city are extended an invitation. Assistant Mrs. John A. Perdue, the president, in receiving the guests will be Mrs. C. Helen Plante, Mrs. Hugh Dorsey and the officers of the chapter. The executive board will assist in entertaining. Mrs. Courtland Winn, chairman of music, has arranged for an orchestra to play throughout the calling hours. Mrs. Louis Newell and Mrs. W. A. Parker will arrange in an artistic way the handsome flags of the chapter, with further decorations of white and red flowers, the U. D. C. colors.

Women to Receive.

Mrs. S. B. Truman, Mrs. Charles Love and Mrs. W. L. Barnes will receive at the door. On a beautifully decorated table in the dining room will be placed an immense birthday cake. The cake will be in two tiers and will have on it 25 white lighted tapers in red tuft holders. The whole will be tipped with a silk Confederate flag. The cake will be cut at the close of the reception.

The table will be presided over by Mrs. Preston Arkwright, Mrs. R. G. Stephens and Mrs. Harry Goodhart.

Mrs. Arthur Hazard, assisted by Miss Alice Stewart and members of the Julia Jackson and the Margaret A. Wilson chapters, Children of the Confederacy, will preside over the punch bowl, a birthday table on which will be placed the silver loving cup won by the chapter a few years ago for historical essay work and other interesting possessions of the chapter, besides several silver gifts that will be given the chapter on Friday.

Silver Anniversary.

The silver anniversary will be presided over by Mrs. A. P. Treadwell. Mrs. J. K. Ottley will tell the history of the chapter and Mrs. Lolla Bell Wylie will speak of the brilliant women leaders in other organizations Atlanta chapter has claimed among her members.

His Friend and His Wife

By COSMO HAMILTON.

As Mary Miller handed the letter back to Margaret, a great cloud seemed to pass between the sun and the earth, and the disappearing figure of Eric Peterson was blotted out as by a fog. But she refused to become panicky or to cross her bridges until she had them. What was the use? "Mrs. Mundy," she said quietly, "is a splendid woman, but she knows more than she wants you to think that she does." The letter trembled in Margaret's fingers and in her eyes there was a look of great fear. "Some one has found us out," she said. "It is he coming up again like a weed. It's in Elsa's garden and before we know where we are, it may be in yours." She put her hands over her face.

In her alert imagination Mary Miller could see herself and her friend standing on a small island, the edges of which were crumbling before a strong, incoming tide. But she had gone arm in arm with trouble a long way up the road and had achieved the faculty of courage. "Well," she said, "let's face this thing coolly and practically. What I think is going to happen is this, and we must be prepared for it. There is a mischief-maker at work—probably the Mrs. Hicks you've told me about. Being unhappy herself she can't bear to see others happy. She has found out about my having sworn to being at Baltimore with Mr. Osborne and is using it to upset this engagement. According to her I am a disreputable woman, and therefore if Gilbert Carlton is a friend of mine, he is not fit to be engaged to Mr. Mahan's daughter. Do you follow me as far as that?"

"Yes," said Margaret. "Well, everything that follows must come out of the temperament of these three new people who have been touched by the epidemic. Gilbert will not let down under Mr. Mahan's refusal to allow him to be engaged to Elsa. He will want to prove that there is nothing in his friendship with me that makes him in any way unfit."

"He can do that," said Margaret. "Can he? How? I can see Mr. Mahan entering the studio. I can see him putting me through a searching cross-examination. I don't know Mr. Mahan, but I have seen him at the Country Club. I like the look of him. He is good-hearted, and as I believe in human nature I shall put all my faith in that and tell him the truth. I shall never again believe in the goodness of humanity if he is not to be trusted."

Every white and very frightened, Margaret eyed her little practical friend with a mixture of confidence and irresolution. Julian knew. He had told her that Mrs. Hicks knew and had told Daisy. Wilbur Hicks knew, and now Egg-Flip Mahan was to know. How long could it be before the story found its way to the ears of Bob? The lie upon which she stood was as useless, a foundation as shifting as sand, and it was spreading through the Quaker Hill colony like water from a broken dam. There was the further complication of young Eric Peterson, who could

THE CANDY BOX Maraschino Chocolates

INGREDIENTS

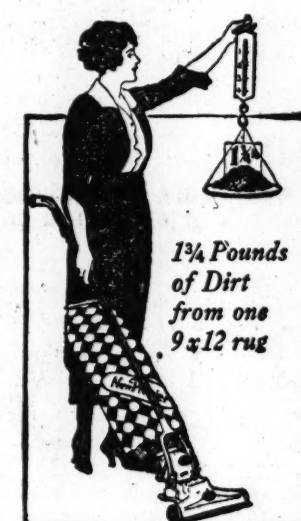

1 cupful of sugar
3/4 cupful of water
A pinch of cream of tartar
1 pound of chocolate
1 bottle of Maraschino cherries.

FORMULA

Dissolve the sugar and cream of tartar in the water. Cook over a slow fire, stirring constantly, until it forms a soft ball when tested in cold water. Care must be taken to stir in any of the grainy syrup that adheres to the sides of the kettle. Pour quickly into a buttered pan. When partly cool stir until it becomes creamy. Set away in a cool damp place overnight. Break into little pieces—add a cherry to each and form into balls. A hat pin can be used for dipping them in the melted chocolate, which must not be overheated.

One Bottle of 'Cardui' Put Her on the Road to Recovery.

Tangier, Ind.—"Four years ago this summer I was sick in bed," writes Mrs. Lillie McElwre, of this place. "I had been under the doctor's care for five weeks. . . I was pretty bad, and I was just as nervous as I could be. . . I could not sleep at night until 10 or 12 o'clock. When I would doze off and wake up I would find all of a tremble with nervousness."

"The doctor called my trouble catarrh of the . . . It gave me such pains that at each one it would seem that I could not bear another one. Then I would chill. . . the pains would just seem to shake me all over, and the next day I would be so weak I could hardly move. I would be so utterly strengthless that it would seem as if I were dying."

"After one of my bad spells . . . and I had almost died, I picked up the Home Treatment Book and decided to try Cardui. Before I had taken a whole bottle, I could sleep at night. . . I don't remember just how long, but in a short time I was up and helping with the work. . . Over forty years of successful use has proven the value of Cardui in the treatment of many common female ailments. . . At drugists sell Cardui, for women.—(adv.)"

ed her. "I don't know what to say to you," she said. "You make the word friendship all golden in the dictionary."

Mary Miller's voice broke. "My dear," she said, "I have a sense of gratitude. You must leave this thing to me. Gilbert must marry Elsa, that goes without saying. He carried her photograph over his heart all through his service, and look what she did for him. It is a good story and must end happily." She wheeled round, hearing a quick, approaching step, "Mr. Mahan," she added, "already," and squared her shoulders.

DOPE SUSPECTS TAKE DOCTORS' SATCHELS

Persons believed to be "dope fiends" stole the satchels of two Atlanta physicians last night. Neither satchel contained any "dope." Dr. S. T. Barnett, 25 East Fourteenth street, missed his satchel from his automobile at about 10:30 o'clock, and the thief also broke the lock that held his spare tire and rim, and took these articles also. The other physician was Dr. J. E. Davis, 324 Capitol avenue, who missed his satchel about an hour later.

An automobile, the property of T. J. Monroe, 1000 Marietta street, was stolen at about 11 o'clock last night from Myrtle and Ford streets. The police have no clue in any of the cases.

Release for Women who Suffer

The multitude of American women who suffer terribly day after day and year after year from ills peculiar to their sex is almost beyond belief—yet there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman, and often many, do not reside who have been restored to health from some of the worst forms of female ills, and often avoided operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

These Two Women Tell of Their Experience.

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on. I was weak and languid, had no energy, and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present am an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. I shall always recommend your Vegetable Compound."—LILLIAN THARP, 824 South 6th Street, Carrollton, Ky.

Onalaska, Wis.—"Every month I had such pains in my back and lower part of stomach I could not lie in bed. I suffered so it seemed as though I would die, and I was not regular either. I suffered for a year and was unfit to do my housework, could only wash dishes once in a while. I read an advertisement of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women and decided to try it. It surely did wonders for me. I have no pains now and can do my own housework without any trouble at all. I will always praise your medicine as I do not believe there is a doctor that can do as much good for female weakness as can Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—MRS. LESTER E. WARNER, R. 1, Box 69, Onalaska, Wis.

BANDIT'S PARENTS QUIT HOTEL HOME; SEEK SECLUSION

The parents of Stuart Taylor, one of the youthful pair held at Fulton Tower for the daring hold-up of two drug stores in the heart of Atlanta's business section last week, and who mortgaged their home in Minneapolis to obtain funds wherewith to come to Atlanta to aid their son, have withdrawn from their rooms at the Wincoff hotel, and their new abiding was withheld Thursday night by their attorneys.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, in an interview granted the Constitution Thursday, expressed pleasure at the manners and customs of southern people. "We are the people," said Mrs. Taylor, "often think of southern courtesy as a quality depicted on the stage in novels, rather than as actually existing. We are much pleased to find that courtesy and consideration of others is a quality which is really characteristic of southern people."

"If a stranger in New York or Chicago should ask directions of some one on the street, very likely he would receive a brusque reply, or perhaps be ignored. In the south, it is different," added Mr. Taylor, "even a busy messenger boy finds time to be polite to strangers."

New Winter Uniforms Worn by Police Force

On Thanksgiving Day

Police officers "dressed" for Thanksgiving Thursday by donning the first time their new and natty winter uniforms, in accordance with orders of Chief Beavers, who desires that the men get used to the newness of their winter clothing before appearing at a general inspection later in the week.

A genuine holiday, in which officials of the recorder's court had ample time to enjoy their Thanksgiving feasting, was much appreciated by Judge Johnson and his assistants Thursday.

Mrs. John Ellis, the inventor of paper patterns, is living in Manchester, England, and is now in her ninety-seventh year.

ARMY MAN FLIES 3 MILES A MINUTE

Lieut. Mosley First in the Pulitzer Aeronautical Race—Seven Machines Meet With Accident.

Minneapolis, N. Y., November 25.—Flying at a speed of virtually 3 miles a minute, Lieutenant C. C. Mosley, pilot of an American-made Verville-Packard army plane, won the first Pulitzer trophy in the aeronautical race here today against a field of 34 starters. He covered the course of slightly more than 132 miles in 44 minutes 29.57-100 seconds, an average speed of approximately 178 miles an hour.

Error About Length of Race. Officials of the Aero Club of America, which conducted the race, first having estimated the course as 140 miles in length, announced immediately after the race that Mosley's average speed was 183.4 miles an hour, a new world's record. However, a later re-measuring of the official map tonight showed that the laps were slightly more than 32 miles in length. Instead of 35, the average speed on the corrected length being cut down 10 miles an hour. It is expected that a survey of the course will be made in order that an exact computation may be established.

The present world's aviation speed record is held by Sadi Lecoq, winner of the recent Gordon Bennett trophy race in France, who averaged 187 miles an hour in a special contest at Villa Coubly, near Paris, ten days after he won the international trophy. In the Gordon Bennett race over a course of 156.3 miles, Lecoq, averaged slightly more than 169 miles an hour, although he had made 174.2 miles an hour in the trials.

Accidents to Seven Machines. As a machines met with accidents during the day and were unable to finish, although in no case was the pilot seriously injured. Just before the race started, an army plane piloted by Lieutenant O. C. Kelly, which had just alighted after a practice spin, collided with a navy plane piloted by Lieutenant J. F. Wolfer, who was about to take off.

Three of Kelly's teeth were knocked out and Wolfer's hand was cut. A Leoning special machine piloted by Lieutenant D. G. Bradley, of the United States marine corps, made a forced landing within 500 yards of the finish line. The last lap, a water connection had broken and the plane dropped to the ground, but the pilot was uninjured. Bradley had covered the first three laps in 37 minutes, 28.87-100 seconds and was a strong contender for second place when the accident happened.

Major Davenport Johnson, U. S. army, in a DeHavilland; Lieutenant W. D. Culbertson, U. S. marine corps, in a Curtiss; Lieutenant F. A. Johnson, United States army, in a SP-5; and Lieutenant F. O. Rogers, United States marine corps, in a DeHavilland, also made forced landings along the course because of engine trouble or other minor difficulties.

Aviators Hopped Off in Wind. The course was from Mineola to Wantagh, thence to Babylon and back to Mineola. Owing to a northerly wind, the plan of having the machines start in groups of three to seven and cross the barrier simultaneously was abandoned. The aviators, having to take off in the wind, were forced to make a sharp turn after crossing the starting mark. Members of the contest committee feared that serious accidents may happen if several machines tried to cut corners at the same time, the outside machine also being placed at a disadvantage because of being forced to make a wider turn.

Instead, the machines were sent off one at a time at intervals of a few minutes. Captain Hartney was the first to get away and he had covered two laps of the course before the last machine had left the ground. Lieutenant Mosley, the winner, was the last to take off, the roar of his six-hundred horsepower motor, reverberating across the field and drowning the high-pitched noises made by the machines of most of the other contestants.

The Verville-Packard covered the first lap in 11 minutes 47.0-100 seconds, the second in 11 minutes 37.100 seconds, the third in 11 minutes 28.100 seconds and the fourth in 11 minutes 15.32-100 seconds. In order to demonstrate that his craft had lots of power left, Mosley circled the course a fifth time, his last lap being made in slightly more than 11 minutes 1.2 seconds.

10,000 Persons Saw Race. Ten thousand persons watched the race from the shore. While several thousand others were gathered along the Long Island road, the racing was among the distinguished guests occupying seats in the grand stand.

It was a great day for the army. In addition to placing seven of its men among the first ten, the army won a private fight from the navy, when representatives of the enlisted men of each engaged in a battle of fists before the grand stand. A sailor was walking past when he accidentally knocked off the hat of a soldier on guard duty, the headgear falling in a pool of water. Instantly the soldier, General Pershing, secretary of the Navy, and the sailor, Brigadier General William Mitchell, director of air service operations, and Brigadier General L. E. O. Charlton, British air attaché, were among the distinguished guests occupying seats in the grand stand.

POOLE WELCOMES PROBE OF CLASH

day that he believed it would not be necessary to call a lot of witnesses, and that the differences between the two departments could be settled without public hearing, although the resolution ordering the investigation permits such, if necessary.

Stradley's Statement. W. C. Stradley, a member of the police board committee to probe the arguments, says that he believes the matter can be straightened out to the satisfaction of all concerned without the necessity of a public hearing. He also said that if the investigation was necessarily keen and searching, as he thought it would be, there is a probability that the officers on whose behalf the alleged gambling dens were found will be quizzed as to their existence.

He qualified this statement, however, by saying that in some cases the patrolmen had not been on the beats in question for a long period, and that in these cases, of course, the officers could not be held strictly responsible.

W. R. Johnson, the other member of the committee, which is chaired by Aldine Chambers, said Thursday night that he thought every detail of the situation would be considered by the committee, but that he also believed a settlement of the difficulties could be attained without the necessity of a public airing of all the minutiae. He further stated that the monthly reports to the police board would probably clarify the matter to a certain extent, and would give the public through the workings of the police department.

King Leaves for Chicago. Commissioner Andy R. King, who seconded Commissioner Chambers' resolution calling for a probe at the special session Wednesday night following the trial of Detective Terry and Howell on charges of stealing whisky in a raid, stated to The Constitution Thursday night that he had heard of no change in the original plan to conduct the investigation thoroughly and openly.

Commissioner King had just returned from a hunting trip, and was told that it had been reported that the investigation of the controversy between Chief Poole, of the detective department, and Solicitor General Boykin might be smoothed over without a public hearing.

"When I seconded the resolution calling for the probe," Commissioner King declared, "I did so with the understanding that it would be conducted thoroughly, and that the facts disclosed would be supplied to the public. I have heard of no change in this plan, and have talked with no members of the board or the probing committee."

To Resume Probe. "If the probe is conducted, it seems to me that officers on whose behalf the recently-raised alleged gambling dens have been raided should be called upon by the committee to tell why they failed to apprehend the law have been going on without police interference or without being apprehended."

"The same holds good for all officers upon whose behalf criminal practices have been going on for any length of time without police action. The board recently adopted a resolution making every policeman responsible for conditions upon his own beat, and if the alleged gambling dens have been in the officers' area for any length of time, the officers upon whose behalf they have been located will be called upon to tell why they failed to apprehend the gamblers. If any officer has been negligent in his duty or crooked we want to know it."

The grand jury recessed Thursday for Thanksgiving, but will resume its investigation of the alleged "wire-tapping" syndicate Friday morning, according to Solicitor Boykin. The investigation of gambling in Atlanta has barely started, stated the solicitor Thursday, and other sensational developments are expected from the further investigation of the grand jurors.

With reference to the workings of the wire-tapping syndicate, N. L. Davis, of Lafayette, Ind., who says that he was fleeced of more than $5,000, Thursday gave accounts of the dazzling speed and efficiency with which the men who got his money worked. The various mechanisms of the crew who, he said, procured his money put him at one time where he believed he would win $100,000 on "Crucible Steel" and later sent him to Terre Haute, Ind., to await news.

who is a member of the committee and who has written an account of the premier's statement for the newspaper Humanite, M. Leygues said he was arranging to encourage trade with Russia.

Discussing General Wrangel and the recent defeat of that anti-bolshevik leader, the premier asserted he considered the rout of General Wrangel's troops represented nothing and that France was relieved of all engagements toward him. This country is now feeding General Wrangel's army out of humanity, but would continue this work no longer than necessary. The premier said he was not thinking of using that army in any way, and incidentally announced that the matter to a certain extent, and would give the public through the workings of the police department.

King Leaves for Chicago. Commissioner Andy R. King, who seconded Commissioner Chambers' resolution calling for a probe at the special session Wednesday says a Moscow wireless message today has issued a decree pointing out the general principles on which foreign capitalists will be permitted to exploit the natural riches of Russia.

The soviet government has received requests from foreign capitalists to afford such rights, the message states, and soviet Russia requires offers of experienced forces and large material means in order to create within the boundaries of Russia an inexhaustible source of raw materials for manufacture on the spot and abroad. A new law permits foreign capitalists to work the natural riches of Russia, the message declares, receiving in return the right to export abroad a portion of their production. The soviet government promises foreign capitalists that nothing they invest in undertakings in Russia shall be nationalized, confiscated or requisitioned. The capitalists shall have the right to engage workers and other employees in accordance with the existing law on labor in Russia.

UPSHAW IS FILLING CHAUTAUQUA DATES

THANKSGIVING DINNER SERVED FOR SOLDIERS

A model menu coming from the First Battalion mess of the Sixth Infantry was served at Camp Gordon Thursday. Soldiers invited friends from Atlanta and nearby towns. Music by the orchestras and bands in the camp added to the gaiety of the dinner.

Western Heights Church Is Opened Thanksgiving Day

The opening service yesterday of the new Western Heights Baptist church on English avenue, was a service of Thanksgiving. Special thanks were given for the privilege of being allowed to worship in the new building on Thanksgiving day, which the pastor, Rev. W. M. Albert, declared in his sermon was "a gift from God."

The service was attended by about 250 persons. The sermon by the pastor dealt with stories from the Bible, of how men had given thanks in adversity, which always was followed by a blessing. He told the congregation that as God had blessed them, they should not fail to send up prayers of thanksgiving. A special music program was given under direction of Professor Downing. At the close of the service a big barbeque dinner was served.

The new church building, almost completed, resting on the crest of a high hill of Stone mountain granite, presents a beautiful appearance. The interior is finished with mission oak.

The auditorium has a seating capacity of 600, and the balcony seats 300. The choir loft is one of the largest in Atlanta, having seats for 160 singers.

The building has 30 Sunday school rooms. W. M. Mote is superintendent of the Sunday school.

REAL GOOD WEATHER TO STAY A FEW DAYS

The weather man is not going to let thankfulness stop with the passage of Thanksgiving day, for he promises that Friday shall be a fair day, with a temperature which will hover in much the same vicinity as it did Thursday. That's fair enough, and C. F. von Herrmann, weather forecaster in chief, indicates that fair weather can be expected for several days, at least.

"Strange how the fellow who used to take his girl out to 'dinner' now rushes home to bawl her out because she doesn't have 'supah,'" observes The Hugo (Okla.) Daily News.

U. S. NAVY BARS WESTERN UNION

Additional Reinforcements Sent to Miami to Prevent the Laying of the Cable.

Miami, Fla., November 25.—Additional reinforcements arrived here from Key West this morning to aid the crew of sub-chaser 154 in guarding employees of the Western Union Telegraph company and to prevent them from connecting the cable across Biscayne bay between Miami and Miami Beach.

Following yesterday's unsuccessful attempt by the Western Union Telegraph company to connect its cable on the causeway across Biscayne bay, between the cities of Miami and Miami Beach, a second sub-chaser was sent here from Key West during the night and the crews from the two naval vessels are now patrolling the million-dollar causeway.

At a late hour yesterday afternoon the employees of the telegraph company, whose attempt in the morning to connect the cable was prevented by armed intervention, were allowed to return to Miami.

All night powerful searchlights from the sub-chaser 154 played on the cable barge and the viaducts which were guarded by armed seamen. Sub-chaser 320 arrived during the night and was on patrol duty off the coast, entering the bay this morning.

Local Western Union officials decline to make any comment on the situation or to give any inkling as to what may be the next move.

MATTER IN HANDS OF COMMANDANT.

Washington, November 25.—The navy department has had no advice from Miami regarding the action of naval forces there in preventing employees of the Western Union Telegraph company from connecting a cable line in the outer harbor. It was said at the department today that the matter was entirely in the hands of the commandant at Key West and that unless some unusual situation arose in connection with his orders to prevent the laying of the cable he would not be expected to keep the department informed of his actions.

Officials of the legal department of the navy were conferring today with officers of the department of justice in connection with the navy department's answer to the injunction suit brought by the Western Union in the District of Columbia Supreme court to restrain Secretary Daniels from interfering with the company's attempts to lay a cable from Miami to West Miami Beach, Fla. The suit will be heard tomorrow.

Dainty Katherine Mulqueen Has One Failing—Ice Cream

BY PAUL WARWICK.

She loves ice cream and is not temperamental enough to fuss when the manager won't let her have it—speaking of Katherine Mulqueen, that delightful little person who has trapped the hearts of Atlanta with her acting, singing and good looks at the Atlanta theater this week in "Irene."

It's a sad story about this ice cream business, and although this story is distinctly and absolutely about that attractive Miss Mulqueen, you'll have to pardon it a bit while it digresses and speaks its opinion of Louis Lissner, the manager of the tenebrous show. He must be a hard-hearted sort of a person, although he doesn't look it, and far from behaves it. For no man in all this turbulent area beneath the sky could refuse Katherine Mulqueen ice cream unless his heart was bronze.

Yet he admits that she does refuse her that privilege, and she says he does, emphatically.

Likes Ice Cream.

When told by the interviewer to please not insist in questions and to tell something about herself, she up and said, without the slightest hesitation:

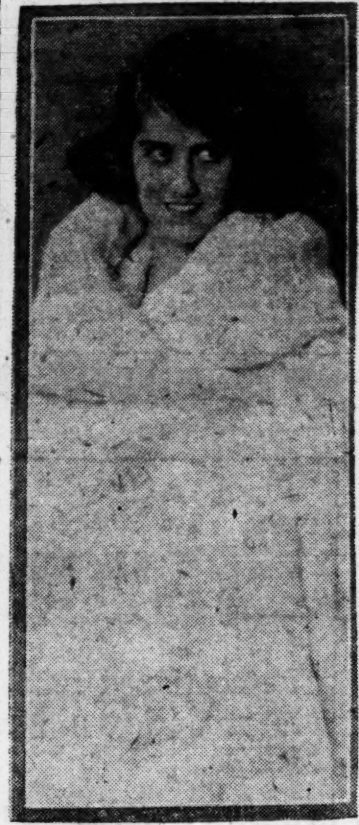

"I like ice cream and ice cream sodas, and Mr. Lissner says I can't eat them. He's afraid I'll get fat."

Then she laughed. "That's a short paragraph, but it's enough for any sane paragrapher to undertake. You'll agree, if you've ever seen her laugh, and can understand how intoxicatingly delicious was when she took this laughing manner of proving that although she liked ice cream and was deprived of it, she was a good enough sport not to haul off and get all temperamental about it. And, also, if you've seen her, you'll admit that as far as ability is concerned, she has every right in the world to be temperamental as the most tantrum opera star."

Back in the star's dressing room, even when unbecomingly attired—that's retracted, nothing about her could be unbecoming. But anyway, even when dressed in those ragged clothes that part of the show makes her wear, it passes understanding how any man can refuse her anything. After a most strenuous activity through the first act of the charming piece, she was as fresh and delightful as if she had just stepped out of wherever beautiful ladies are supposed to step from when they want to look their most perfect selves.

Born in Philadelphia. She was born in Philadelphia eighteen years ago, and hasn't been on the stage but two years. That's something in itself, but is more when you hear that she stayed in the chorus only one season before Comstock and Gest were glad to give her a part in "Leave It to Jane."

"Irene" and everybody's happy. Especially Miss Mulqueen. She's the happiest person you ever saw, even without her ice cream. It's a quandary for her admirers. As to whether they prefer that she stay

KATHERINE MULQUEEN.
Dainty Star at Atlanta Theater this week, whose greatest weakness is an insatiable ice cream appetite.

In "Irene," or leave it and have her ice cream. She wants both, for she seems to enjoy the role as much as her audiences, and that's stating a hoghead full.

JOSEPH J. RYAN DIES; SON OF THOS. F. RYAN

New York, November 25.—Joseph J. Ryan, son of Thomas Fortune Ryan, the financier, died here tonight at the Ansonia hotel, where he had been living since his demobilization from the army in 1919. Ryan, who was 39 years old, enlisted at the outbreak of the war and returned to America with the rank of first lieutenant.

Joseph Ryan was a brother-in-law of Alan A. Ryan, the broker who sat on Wall street with his $100 corner several months ago and got into a bitter controversy with the board of governors of the stock exchange.

"Things never will improve much in this country as long as a man prefers to loaf rather than work for $2 a day," believes The Mangum (Okla.) Star.

U. S. TO ASK MEXICO TO GIVE GUARANTEES

Early Statement Regarding Recognition of the Southern Republic Is Expected.

Washington, November 25.—Secretary Colby is expected to make known before his departure for South America Sunday or Monday the nature of his reply to the recent letter of R. V. Pesquiera, confidential agent here of the provisional government of Mexico, setting forth the claims of that government to recognition by the United States.

Recent information conferences between state department officials and Mr. Pesquiera are understood to have cleared the way for such an announcement. It was believed the Mexican agent had full knowledge of the position the American government would take when he met today on a hurried trip to Mexico City.

Pesquiera's letter was made public by the state department with comments by Mr. Colby, which said that a few points remained to be cleared up before recognition could be granted. While officials decline to discuss the substance of the reply now being drafted, it is believed to contain specific references to the matters in dispute between the two countries and a statement of what the United States will contribute as a satisfactory solution by Mexico of some of her problems.

It was said no attempt would be made to dictate to Mexico what she must do to attain the status necessary for recognition, but it will be made clear that the United States will be unable to accord recognition until certain tangible guarantees are given by Mexico of her willingness and ability to protect American lives and legitimate interests in Mexico.

Among things Mexico will be expected to do, it is known, will be interpretation of article 27 of the constitution of Queretaro by some official pronouncement. This is within the purview of congress of the Mexican supreme court, before which many suits brought on behalf of Americans and American companies have been pending for six months to three years.

Mr. Pesquiera has desired to obtain recognition before the De la Huerta administration goes out of office with the inauguration of General Obregon on December 1. It became known today that he had a further discussion of the whole Mexican question with Secretary Colby and Undersecretary of State Davis at a dinner this week at Mr. Colby's home. Care has been taken by state department officials and by Mr. Pesquiera to avoid giving any official caste to these discussions and for that reason they have not been held at the department.

Member of Posse Led to Own Home By Bloodhounds

Meridian, Miss., November 25.—Roy Miner, 22-year-old son of a wealthy manufacturer of this city, and living on a farm 8 miles southeast, was a member of the posse that followed bloodhounds that trailed the alleged slayer of Mrs. Lewis Morris, 56, to his own home today.

Miner was immediately placed under arrest by Sheriff Martin, and with his father-in-law, J. E. Johnson, 55, are in jail pending further developments.

Mrs. Morris was found dead in a cornfield on the Johnson farm, with a bullet wound in the head. She was carried by a load of shot fired at close range. The body was found by Johnson, who reported to the sheriff, after which, he stated, he had heard the report of a shotgun.

Johnson's arrest followed shortly after Young Miner's, when the sheriff received information that the families had been quarrelling the previous day.

Miner's conduct in joining the posse and following the bloodhounds has taken precedence over the killing in the excitement that prevails here. It is stated by the sheriff that the dogs were taken to the spot where the body was found and immediately took to the trail.

After following a circuitous route for some distance, the dogs went direct to the Miner home and to the bed occupied by Miner last night.

Miner and Johnson have made no statement as to the man who married last May. His wife is but 18 years old.

BOLSHEVIKI DESTROY GEN. PETLURA'S ARMY

Beaten Ukraine Forces Are in Flight—Russians and Poles Almost Clash.

Warsaw, November 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Armed conflict between Polish forces and bolshevik troops which have reached the Polish frontier along the Zbrucz river was narrowly averted when the bolsheviks began a bombardment of the town of Tarnopol, about 25 miles east of Tarnopol. Polish military authorities protested against the bombardment, which caused the deaths of five persons and serious injury of 16 others.

The Poles were preparing to attack the bolsheviks when the bombardment stopped, and the soviet commander sent a delegation to the town, explaining the place was fired upon because of a misunderstanding.

The bolsheviks believed the place was east of the justice line and in the hands of Ukrainians. General Permykin's Russian army, which has attempted to co-operate with Simion Petlura's Ukrainians, has virtually been destroyed. It is said in dispatches from Tarnopol and the bolsheviks have reached the eastern bank of the Zbrucz along its entire length. Reports also indicate that Petlura's army, commanded by General Pavlenko, has been wiped out. More than 25,000 fugitives from these armies have recently crossed the Polish frontier.

If it says Petlura and his close followers have fled into Eastern Galicia.

They were accompanied on the tender which took them to the Celtic by Mrs. MacSwiney's brother-in-law, Lord Mayor MacSwiney, and by Lord Mayor MacSwiney's widow, Mrs. MacSwiney, who was married in March last.

Asheville, N. C., November 25.—Madame Margaret MacSwiney, sister of the late lord mayor of Cork, received a cablegram from her brother, Terence MacSwiney, today stating that the widow of Terence MacSwiney would visit Asheville upon her arrival in America. Madame Margaret MacSwiney is a sister at College of St. Genevieve of the Pines, this city.

HARRIS IS DOOMED TO ELECTRIC CHAIR ON MURDER CHARGE

Asheville, N. C., November 25.—J. T. Harris is under sentence to die in the electric chair at 3 o'clock Friday morning, January 28, for the murder on September 27 of F. W. Monish, prominent Tuscaloosa, Ala., real estate dealer, at the Baptist assembly grounds, Ridgecrest, N. C.

A verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree was returned this morning, and Judge E. F. Long returned a written sentence soon thereafter. Motion for a new trial will be made immediately by the defense. This being denied, notice of appeal was given.

With the verdict and passing of sentence this morning, the longest murder trial in the annals of Buncombe county courts was brought to a close. Opening November 11, the trial consumed the entire attention of the court. A protracted fight on grounds of emotional insanity was made by the defense.

Because of the prominence of the dead man and his slayer, the case has had few equals in North Carolina courts. Harris, it was brought out in the testimony, went to his store and procured a shotgun, emptying its contents into Monish at close range. He died while lying on the floor. Harris has been in jail since that time.

An unusual feature of the legal battle was the appearance for the defense of a nephew of the defendant, McKinley Pritchard, son of Judge C. L. Pritchard, of the United States court of appeals. Harris married the judge's sister.

"The one way to meet the cold snaps is to put the snap into business," advises The Enid (Okla.) Daily News.

DRAUGHON GIRLS FORM BASKETBALL QUINTET

Draughon's Business College girls' basketball team will play its first practice game of the season with the new Marxist court, this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Coach Bean has been sending the team through the paces, and they are fastly rounding into good shape. This will be the first year that the school has turned out a girls' basketball team, and with the material they have on hand, they should give the other girls' fives in this section a run for their money.

On the Draughon quintet is to be found three of the best girl basketball players that have ever played in the Walker. All played on the famous Fulton High team in recent years, and while at that school they made a wonderful record. Nina Graves and Frances Phillips will start the game with Dorris "Red" Walker playing one of the guard positions. Susie Lambright, former College Park star, will be found at center. The other guard position will be taken care of by Alice Wilson.
